

To whom it may concern:

Landfare ltd. is a custom landscape design build firm that maintains a high-end residential clientele. Maintaining this clientele regularly requires the assistance of outside resources. As the General Manager of Landfare ltd. I have had the privilege of working with Dan Mejer and company on several challenging carpentry projects. Dan's unique ability to solve problems combined with years of professional experience has allowed us to achieve seemingly unattainable goals.

Additionally, our detail oriented clients have critiqued Dan's work upon completion and found that his work exceeded not only industry standards but the standards of home owners as well. We strongly recommend Dan Mejer for your next carpentry project and will continue to call on the services he provides.

Sincerely,

Zach Miller, General Manager/Landfare ltd.
